January-February 2017

Message From The Chair

Welcome to this first UA Department of Medicine newsletter for 2017. It's only fitting we include both a look back at notable achievements and forward to our exciting plans for growth.

First, photos from our end-of-the-year faculty and staff gatherings can be seen here. We also add to my 2016 recap from the last issue of The Pulse with even more awards, recognitions and accomplishments in the "In with a Bang" spotlight article below.

We set the stage for a successful 2017 with the creation of the new Division of Genetics, Genomics and Precision Medicine, as well as the positive response to our DOM Research Seminar Series and PI Research Poster Night (on Jan. 17). Look for similar successes in the coming months.

Construction continues on the new Banner – University Medical Center Tucson tower (topped off Jan. 18), the Banner – UMC North Campus outpatient center, as well as the UAHS BioSciences Research Lab and Health Sciences Innovation Building, encompassing more than $750 million in capital investment in the future of academic medicine in Southern Arizona. For the latest construction updates, click here.

At the College of Medicine – Tucson General Faculty Meeting (Feb. 8), BUMCTS CEO Tom Dickson gave a summary of progress on clinical improvements in the UA-Banner partnership and Dean Charles Cairns kicked off the college's 50th anniversary celebrations with a summary of five decades of innovation and a reception. As one of the original departments, DOM faculty were well represented. See photos from the meeting here.

The Cerner electronic health record conversion in Tucson is another area that promises to reinvigorate our processes as we seek to realign how health care is delivered to a more efficient, patient-centered model. Running on a parallel path toward this model, Dr. Tammy Ojo, vice chair of clinical affairs, has commenced a series of divisional meetings to create an action plan to accomplish this. While change can seem a challenge at times, the creative problem-solving it inspires promotes innovation.

And, as with Cerner, the ability to better leverage our information across the Banner Health enterprise will unleash a number of possibilities for even greater improvement. Thank you to our Cerner physician champions for stepping up to assist as subject matter experts to help guide others in the department on this.

Monica Kraft, MD
